

Bankgiro Invoice

Have all your invoice forms already printed in advance with Bankgiro Invoice.

Basic facts

All you have to worry about is to fill in the data from your sales ledger before you slip the invoice into the mail box. This is an excellent opportunity for your company to improve the payment routines, for example by directing the payments straight to the bank account. The money is deposited without delay and the reconciliation becomes more efficient.

The service is suitable mainly for companies with consumer customers or small and medium sized companies.

You can order your invoices in several designs:

- Standard design – choose from three sizes.
- In accordance to your requirements for format, colour, form text and amount of copies.
- In consecutive order to be printed out on your printer.
- With envelopes, with or without personalization.

How does it work?

A Bankgiro Invoice contains an invoice and a payment advice printed on the same paper sheet. You fill in the customer's name or number and the amount to be paid. Keep the copy and send the original to your customer. Your customer can pay the invoice any way he prefers; via the Internet, giro or in a bank office.

Your benefits

- You get the payments straight to the right account.
- It simplifies the reconciliation in the sales ledger.
- Your invoices will make a serious and professional impression.
