Management Report

Dear Unitholders,

With this report, we want to give you an overview of the general economic environment, the development of the most important capital markets, our investment policy and the performance of our Fund SEB Optimix.

This semi-annual report covers the financial period from 1 November 2013 to 30 April 2014.

We would like to thank you for your confidence and will do everything within our power to justify your decision of investing in our Fund.

From liquidity to growth driven markets

If anything the developments in financial markets over the last year has illustrated the volatility that can arise once markets go from being driven by liquidity to growth and fundamentals. A volatility that was especially visible in May and August 2013, where both equities and government bonds sold off en masse, and thereby lifted the correlations between the different asset classes. As if the developments in the developed markets weren't enough, Emerging Markets assets sold off heavily in the markets as the investors had to reprice the assets which over the last five years had gained the most of the excessive central bank liquidity.

Despite the uncertainty in the financial markets caused by the central banks last year also presented stronger growth in Europe and the US. Leading indicators have strengthened almost constantly over the last 12 months for both regions and production, consumption and employment has improved significantly in the US. This development has naturally made the transition from a liquidity driven to a growth driven market easier, as was also witnessed by the subdued reaction to the actual start of tapering in December 2013; the start of reduction in the monthly purchases of treasuries and Mortgage Backed Securities ("MBSs") in the US.

The slowdown in Emerging Markets

Geopolitical uncertainty, rising inflation, financial outflows and uncertainty about the sustainability of Chinese credit growth all put a downward pressure on the actual and projected growth in Emerging Markets. The reduced growth of Emerging Markets over the last year led to a widespread uncertainty of whether the growth rates of the past decade were sustainable. Investors feared that the Chinese recovery was close to reaching a focal point in the credit growth which had led to the stories about a housing bubble. In general the central banks of Emerging Market reacted by sharp rate hikes in order to subdue to the inflation pressure. The effect of which in the start of 2014 showed itself by first a stabilization of the currencies and then a sharp rally in both bonds and equities. On the margin global investors have once more started to pour in money in the region.

With a particular focus on China, the authorities have reacted by fiscal and monetary stimulus measures, in an apparent attempt to make the transition of the growth composition as smooth as possible. The authorities are as such trying to go from a primarily investment driven economy to a more consumption based. It should be said that the measures have been smaller and more targeted than those which were launched post the 2008 crisis.

Monetary policy

If anything the last year has been dominated by the actions of the central banks. In May 2013 the FED started to discuss the prospects of winding down the QE3 program which had up until then bought USD85 billion of treasuries and MBSs on a monthly basis. The announcement that the FED was considering reducing this amount led to, as previously written, a relatively large sell-off in safe haven bonds. Presently the FED is still winding down the program by roughly USD10 billion a month; a process which was launched in December 2013.

While the FED is getting closer to a tightening of the monetary policy in the form of a rate hike, the opposite can be said of the ECB. The ECB has more than any other central bank had success with forward guidance and verbal intervention as they have produced falling peripheral spreads, a loosening of the credit conditions and low and stable yields. That being said, the ECB has come under increasing pressure in 2014 to finally deliver some concrete measures. So while the FED continues to taper the ECB seems closer than ever to deliver on the promise to do whatever it takes to save the Euro.

Low rates for long?

US interest rates rose over the last year as a consequence of the tapering process and the improved US growth. However the move was very much centered on the summer of 2013 and yields have in general held to the levels already achieved in August 2013. Reflecting the different stages of the monetary cycle of the US and Europe, European yield levels have been roughly flat over the period. This however does cover over a very heterogeneous universe where yields of Italian and Spanish bonds have declined considerably while yields on German bonds have increased slightly. The general consensus of the market, that yields should start to rise from the current very low levels, have therefore not played out to the extent which most anticipated.

A shift in the driving factor for equities

As stated the financial markets have been in a transition, where the main driving factor has shifted from central bank liquidity to economic growth. This has been more so in the equity markets than anywhere else.

Over the last year equities have started to trade more on good economic news than speculation about central bank liquidity. This was very clearly illustrated in 2013 where close to all disappointing economic prints made equities rise in expectations that tapering would then start later. This trend changed in the last part of 2013 and 2014 where equities have once more started to focus on valuations and economic growth potential.

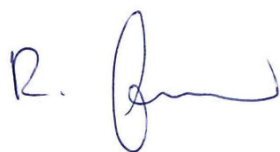

Outlook for the financial markets and economic growth

Economic growth will most likely continue to improve from the present levels providing a benign background for risk assets in general. At the same time the expected easing of monetary policy in Europe will provide a boost to the idea that Europe is finally exiting the debt crisis phase which has haunted the region for the better part of the last 5 years.

Government bond yields seem poised to rise given the improving economic environment and the historically low levels they presently sit at.

In light of the improving economic growth and the expectation of rising earnings and sales equities should deliver a positive return close to, if not above, its historical average. Even though equities are starting to trade at rich multiples they should still be able to perform. The gains however now have to come from actual earnings growth and not just multiple expansion fuelled by central bank liquidity.

Notes to the Financial Statements

As at 30 April 2014

Note 1. Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Luxembourg regulations relating to Undertakings for Collective Investment.

Investments:

a) Transferable securities and money market instruments, which are officially listed on the stock exchange, are valued at the last available price.

b) Transferable securities and money market instruments, which are not officially listed on a stock exchange, but which are traded on another regulated market are valued at a price no lower than the bid price and no higher than the ask price at the time of the valuation and at which the Management Company considers to be an appropriate market price.

c) Transferable securities and money market instruments quoted or traded on several markets are valued on the basis of the last available price on the principal market for the transferable securities or money market instruments in question, unless these prices are not representative.

d) In the event that such prices are not in line with market conditions, or for securities and money market instruments other than those covered in a), b) and c) above for which there are no fixed prices, these securities and money market instruments, as well as other assets, will be valued at the current market value as determined in good faith by the Management Company, following generally accepted valuation principles verifiable by the auditor.

e) Units or shares of UCI(TS) are valued at the last available Net Asset Value.

f) Financial Futures Contracts, which are not matured, are valued at valuation date at market rates prevailing at this date and resulting unrealised appreciation or depreciation are posted as change in net unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on financial future contracts to the Statement of Changes in Net Assets.

g) Financial instruments which are not traded on futures exchanges but on a regulated market are valued at their settlement value, as stipulated by the Management Company in accordance with generally recognised principles, taking into consideration the generally accepted accounting practices, the customary practices in line with the market and the interests of the Unitholders, provided that the above mentioned principles correspond with generally accepted valuation procedures, which can be verified by the auditor.

In the case that extraordinary circumstances occur which make it impossible or even wrong to make a valuation in accordance with the above-mentioned criteria, the Management Company is entitled to temporarily apply other generally accepted valuation procedures, which are determined by it in good faith and which can be verified by the auditor, in order to make an appropriate valuation of the Fund's Assets.

Gains and losses on the sale of securities are determined using the average cost method.

Furthermore, new techniques and instruments may be developed which may be suitable for use by a Sub-Fund in the future and a Sub-Fund may employ such techniques and instruments subject to restrictions imposed by ESMA.

Note 3. Management Fees

In payment for its services, the Management Company receives a commission at a maximum annual rate of:

Note 4. Custody Fees

The Custodian Bank receives a commission at an annual rate of 0.022% of the Net Assets of each Sub-Fund, based on the Net Assets of the Sub-Fund held in the form of securities calculated on the last day of the month. These fees are paid at the end of each month

Note 5. Taxation

The Fund is liable in Luxembourg to a subscription tax ("taxe d'abonnement") of 0.05% or 0.01% (as applicable) per annum of its NAV, such tax being payable quarterly on the basis of the value of the aggregate Net Assets of the Fund at the end of the relevant calendar quarter. Investments by a Fund in shares or units of another Luxembourg undertaking for collective investment which are also subject to the taxe d'abonnement are excluded from the NAV of the Fund serving as basis for the calculation of this tax to be paid by the Fund.

No stamp duty or other tax is payable in Luxembourg on the issue of units.

Interest, dividend and other income realised by the Fund on the sale of securities of non-Luxembourg issuers, may be subject to withholding and other taxes levied by the jurisdictions in which the income is sourced.

Note 10. Significant Events during the period

Sub-Funds into Liquidation

The Board of Directors of the Management Company has decided that due to a high total investment in illiquid funds and to ensure equal treatment of Unitholders, to put the Sub-Funds SEB Optimix Substanz and SEB Optimix Ertrag into liquidation with effect on 11 December 2012. The suspension of the redemption of units and the rejection of subscription and conversion applications decided on the 27 February 2012 is thus final. Since the liquidation process of these Sub-Funds depends largely on being able to liquidate the underlying funds, the liquidation in the interest of the Unitholders will probably not be concluded until 31 of December 2017. The notice to the unitholders is published on the website www.sebgroup.lu.

A first reimbursement was distributed on 21 December 2012 to customers who held units in the Sub-Funds SEB Optimix Substanz and SEB Optimix Ertrag. The reimbursement represents 25.6% of total assets under management in SEB Optimix Substanz and 52.6% of total assets under management in SEB Optimix Ertrag (based on the net asset value on 19 December 2012).

A second reimbursement was distributed on 5 July 2013 to customers who held units in the Sub-Funds SEB Optimix Substanz and SEB Optimix Ertrag. SEB ImmoInvest and SEB ImmoPortfolio Target Return Fund are traded for a significantly lower price than the published price on a secondary market. Notes to the “EU Savings Tax Directive”

The Council of the European Union adopted on 3 June 2003 a Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the "Savings Tax Directive") under which Member States of the European Union ("Member States") will be required to provide tax authorities of another Member State with details of payment of interest or other similar income paid by a person within its jurisdiction to an individual resident in that other Member State. Austria, Belgium and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg have opted alternatively for a withholding tax system for a transitional period in relation to such payments. The Luxembourg law of 21 June 2005 implemented the Savings Directive into Luxembourg law (the "Savings Directive Law"). Pursuant to the Savings Directive Law, from 1 July 2005 until 30 June 2008, the withholding tax rate on interest was 15% and from 1 July 2008 until 30 June 2011, the withholding tax was 20% rising to 35% from 1 July 2011 onwards. Article 9 of the Savings Directive Law provides that no withholding tax will be withheld if the beneficial owner expressly authorizes the paying agent to report information in accordance with the provisions of the Savings Directive Law.

Dividends distributed are subject to the Savings Tax Directive if more than 15% of the assets are invested in debt claims as defined in the Savings Directive Law. Proceeds realised by Unitholders on the disposal of units will be subject to such reporting or withholding if more than 40% of the assets are invested in debt claims as defined by the Savings Directive Law. As from 1 January 2011 the application threshold for the EU Savings Directive changed from 40% to 25%.

The determination of the portion of debt claims has been carried out based on an asset test. Key dates for this asset test were 30 April 2013 and 31 October 2013. The average percentage of the fund's debt claims are as follows:

SEB Optimix Wachstum:	12.01%
SEB Optimix Chance:	11.96%

Therefore, the Sub-Fund SEB Optimix Wachstum is subject to the Savings Tax Directive only in relation to the interest income contained within the dividend payments for the period from 1 March 2014 to 28 February 2015.

Therefore the Sub-Fund SEB Optimix Chance is not subject to the Savings Tax Directive for the period from 1 March 2014 to 28 February 2015.
